Other Ongoing and Planned Working Projects

Book

"Leaders and Genocides since the Holocaust: Who Conducted, Condoned and Tried to Stop Genocides in the Last Fifty Years" (working title)

Synopsis:

In this project, I explore how the political psychology of three categories of decision-makers (genocidal national leaders, those who condoned genocide happening and those who tried to stop it) has impacted their policy preferences and behavior. I address this issue by using operational code and leadership trait analysis.

Papers

“US Foreign Policy, the Middle East Peace Process and Syria – Lost Opportunities, Burned Bridges and an Ounce of Hope”

“Nuclear Leaders – Deterring Ahmadinejad and Kim Jong II”

Data Collections

US Presidents and Advisors Data Project: I created the psychological profiles of Bush 41, Clinton and Bush 43 and their main foreign policy advisors (Secretaries of State, Secretaries of Defense and National Security Advisors)

The Middle East Decision-Makers Data Project: I collect information about policy preferences and policy behaviors of relevant leaders involved in the Arab-Israeli conflict since the 1967 War.
